OBITUARY.

He still prepared for death and death of life shall thereby be the sweeter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Maudeville died at her home in Lynn township Wednesday, Feb. 21, 1912, and the funeral was held from the Bethel church on Saturday, Rev. Foote officiating. Interment in Lynn cemetery.

Elizabeth Huff was born at Sparta, Ont., May 19, 1836. Was married to B. W. Maudeville Nov. 3, 1858. Moved to Michigan and located on the farm where she died in 1869. There were born to the union three children. George, who died eighteen years ago; Wynet, of Logansport, Ind.; Almira Block, of Lynn. Her husband died six years ago. Besides the children there were seven grandchildren. Two brothers also survive, James, Omaha, Neb., and William, at Baldwin, Kansas.

Deceased and her husband came to Lynn township when that section was a dense wilderness and withstood many privations incident to pioneer life and heaved out a home for themselves and family and saw the country come from an unproductive section to cultivated fields and comfortable homes. The family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement.

The family of deceased desire to express their gratitude for the many kind acts and sympathy shown by friends and neighbors during the illness and after the death of their mother. Also to the choir and others who took part at the burial.

William Zavitz died at the state hospital in Pontiac on Sunday, February 25, 1912, and his body was brought to Yale, with the funeral services on Wednesday at 1 p. m., at the home of Bert Kelly, a brother-in-law.

Rev. Johnson preached the sermon and the interment took place in Speaker cemetery.

Deceased was born in Speaker June 18, 1867. He was married January 3, 1903, to Myrtle Kelly, of Yale. For a few years they lived here. Mr. Zavitz being a tailor in the Windsor shop. He was a genial, hearty young man and won many friends.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Zavitz moved to Sandusky. No children were born to them. The wife, father and mother, three sisters, Mrs. Will Wark and Mrs. Ed. Beadle of Speaker, and Mrs. W. Beadle, of Saginaw, with one brother, C. J. Zavitz, of Appleton, mourn his loss.

The near relatives of William Zavitz desire to thank the many friends who offered kind assistance, and are grateful to the choir and to those who sent floral tributes.

It was with sad hearts that Yale people learned of the death of Mrs. J. S. Ryan, at her home in Flushing, on February 9th, at the age of sixty-three years. Mrs. Ryan formerly resided in Yale and during the few years she lived among us she made many friends, for to know her was to love her. She will be greatly missed in her own home, but may the family be comforted by the will of One who doeth all things well. A husband, one son, Floyd, of this city, and a daughter in Oregon, are left to mourn her loss.

Edward Madison, one of the oldest and best known residents of St. Clair county, died at his home near Capac Thursday morning, cause pneumonia. His wife is very low, suffering from the same disease.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who assisted us in our bereavement. Also the choir and brother Masons.

Mrs. Fred Colberg and Family.

A Suggestion.

Why not a sugar beet factory for Yale? When towns smaller than Yale can secure a plant, surely with facilities we have to offer, a deal could be made whereby we could be the proud possessors of a big, busy place that would greatly increase the population and thereby enhance all business interests.

It is worth trying for. Yale's position and location on the railroad is a very desirable one, the soil of the vicinity could not be better suited to the needs of beet growing and plenty of acreage could be easily secured. The reason why beets are not largely grown now is because we are so far from a factory and it costs too much to move them. A factory here would be a paying institution—why not go after it.

DIKE REMEDIES ARE ALWAYS GOOD

Do You Eat Bread or Potatoes?

Too many dyspeptics make the mistake of taking pepsin to aid their digestion and relieve bloating, constipation and similar ills. Pepsin is the right treatment for some cases of dyspepsia. It helps digest meats and similar foods.

Dike's Dyspepsia Tablets will help every dyspeptic, no matter what causes his trouble, for they contain pepsin and diastase in scientific proportions.

The truth is that most dyspeptics have trouble in digesting starchy foods—potatoes, bread, breakfast foods, etc. Pepsin won't help them. They need diastase, which helps to digest the starchy foods.

Take Dike's Dyspepsia Tablets and you can eat what you like. They help to digest meat and eggs, as well as bread, potatoes and all starchy foods.

This is the Only Store in town that sells Dike's Preparations.
